Hot Topics in Animal Law

8:30 a.m.—10:00 a.m.

CLE Center – Metro Toronto Convention
Center (MTCC), South Building

The best and the brightest of the up and coming new generation of animal law practitioners will be on hand to discuss the hottest issues on the horizon in widely varied aspects of animal law practice, including companion animal litigation and transactional work, wildlife law, and the laws pertaining to captive exotics and farm animals. Animal Law is a break out area of expertise in which “young lawyers” can quickly rise to positions in which they are at the forefront of cutting-edge legal work. Each of the young lawyers on this panel will identify an important area of focus in his or her area of expertise and offer insights valuable to both the seasoned animal law practitioner and those who are not yet familiar with the practice of animal law. The program will be geared to show the breadth of the practice area while still allowing in-depth discussion of some of the most pressing and current legal issues.
